

on Monday and came there to reside on Tuesday. The box (2) was brought by men on Tuesday. He bought a grate and some little things - bed pillows - from me. I saw him occasionally going about. He brought his wife to my shop with him. He was in my shop daily buying trifles. I asked her when alone one day - "whatever induced you to come here" ? and she answered "I will tell you - he goes out at night and stops with his pals and I thought he would be better to come here". I went down to their house on Saturday night between seven and eight. They were at tea. He did not look like sober. He was not very civil. She was perfectly sober.

Cross-examined - They seemed friendly together.
