

During the first week he did not lock the door when he went out.

In the second he did.

Blind of back window kept up first week and down second - till he got into hands of police. Broken pane in that window. It looks into back green. Prisoner wore slippers first week. In second week he had shoes or boots on when I first saw him on Wednesday of that week.

Cross-examined - My room is on ground floor to the back with partition wall between it and the Prisoner's back room. Cannot hear through it what is said in Prisoner's room, or even talking at all - unless the doors are open. Could not hear poking fire.
