

44.

to acquit him, and that if it did not, it could be no ground for a recommendation to mercy, and that their verdict of guilty and recommendation to mercy being in this view, inconsistent, I could not receive the verdict and must therefore desire them to retire again, and reconsider the case. They retired again accordingly and after an absence of about five minutes, returned to court with a unanimous verdict of guilty without any recommendation to mercy.

44